

Nathan Richey

FOUNDER, MANAGING PARTNER

Nate founded Bestige Holdings in 2016 and is the Firm's Managing Partner. Nate is responsible for setting and stewarding the strategic direction of the Firm as well as developing, leading and inspiring its professionals. Bridging the investment and operations functions, he works closely with portfolio company management teams to develop and refine their individual strategies to drive long-term value creation while also overseeing all investment related activities and goals.

Prior to launching Bestige, Nate was a Managing Director and member of the Investment Committee for Centre Lane Partners. Before Centre Lane, he served as a Vice President with Monomoy Capital Partners. Both firms focused on investing in fundamentally sound middle-market businesses. In these roles, Nate focused on deal sourcing, acquisitions and post-close management of investments. He also partnered with management teams and third parties to improve businesses, both through on-going margin improvements as well as long-term strategic and top line advancements.

Earlier in his career, Nate worked in the Financial Restructuring Group of Houlihan Lokey. Nate joined Houlihan Lokey from the Managed Assets group of JP Morgan. He began his career in the Corporate Finance group of Heller Financial.

Nate is a graduate of the University of Chicago, where he received an MBA, and Elmhurst University where he received a BA in Accounting and Finance.
